

Greetings from Tiger Town!

This month has been full of celebrations and the one that has captured the most attention was the exceptional recognition of our National Championship Football Team on June 12th at the White House. It was a memorable day for the Clemson Nation, and we continue to celebrate with Coach Dabo Swinney and our players for their remarkable successes – both on and off the field.

President Donald Trump, and his staff, provided a warm reception to the team, coaches, trustees, and many other Clemson fans who enjoyed his personal remarks about our “determined spirit” and “will to win.” President Trump also acknowledged President Clements for his outstanding leadership. Please take a moment to recap this amazing event – you will be inspired as you watch this special moment in Clemson’s history. More photos from the trip can be viewed on the Clemson Football Facebook page here.

One of our outstanding doctoral students in the Holcombe Department of Electrical & Computer Engineering, Guneet Bedi, is headed to Mexico to make a presentation at the International Student Energy Summit (SES), which takes place this week in Merida, Mexico. The SES brings together 800 chosen delegates from 120 countries and hails as the most globally diverse event for students working in the energy sector. Congratulations, Guneet! We are extremely proud of you for representing Clemson University on the world stage.

Clemson alumnus and longtime supporter, Stuart McWhorter, will serve the university as an executive-in-residence for six months beginning this week to assist with the creation of a strategic plan designed to drive Clemson’s efforts around entrepreneurship and economic engagement. As a volunteer executive in-residence, McWhorter will advise President Clements and Provost Jones on a range of issues related to Clemson’s work to support entrepreneurship and promote economic development in South Carolina. We are extremely fortunate to have Stuart help us with this important initiative. As a former Clemson Tiger Mascot, we are confident that he will rally tremendous support and enthusiasm to position Clemson for success.

We hope your summer is off to a great start! Clemson’s campus is full of activities, including Summer Orientation events and summer school classes. In addition, we have a number of youth sports camps that are full of energy and excitement! Many of you have experienced similar events with your children and we know how much you treasure those special memories.

As a special incentive, we are offering a wonderful national championship commemorative tablecloth for purchase to everyone who makes a gift by the end of the month.

On Father’s Day weekend, we would like to tell you about a very special dad, Stephen McCrorey, CU ‘68, who has made the decision to honor the memory of his beautiful daughter, Maggi, by creating an endowment to provide financial assistance to Clemson students. The Maggi McCrorey Endowed Memorial Scholarship provides much-needed financial support to business majors from York County.
